For the first time in the entire history of man the addict stands a chance, we never had this before so lets make the most of it, I tell you it does something to you when you sit, as I do, at a meeting here on Friday nights & look around a big table & see thirty to forty clean addicts & realize that this is probably the biggest number gathered together at one time (outside of institutions) anywhere in the world, who are clean on the street, because they have found something now, that they were looking for in drugs & seldom found.

Just a thought but what a thought!
